Judith A. Eisen is a Partner/Director of Garfunkel Wild, P.C., which she joined in 1988. Ms. Eisen's practice focuses on the representation of hospitals and other health care providers including nursing homes, home health agencies, durable medical equipment providers, pharmacies, laboratories, and physicians with emphasis on regulatory, transactional, compliance, general corporate, finance, employment, disciplinary, patient care, and other related matters. She also represents other healthcare industry-related clients, including healthcare lenders and vendors to the industry. She has worked extensively on matters relating to not-for-profit corporate governance, as well as related issues for social service agencies. Ms. Eisen developed and implemented a HIPAA Compliance Program for health care providers, health plans, clearinghouses and business associates.

Her past experience reflects a varied knowledge of the health care industry. Prior to becoming an attorney, Ms. Eisen worked as a registered nurse in pediatrics and neonatal intensive care, nursing education, nursing administration and risk management. Immediately following law school, she practiced corporate law, with a focus on corporate transactions and finance.

Ms. Eisen has been an Adjunct Professor of Health Law, Hofstra University Law School and frequently writes and lectures on corporate and regulatory issues. She is also a sponsor of the Gitenstein Institute for Health Law and Policy, which is affiliated with Hofstra University Law School and Hofstra North Shore-LIJ School of Medicine.
